MAXIMIZING THE BENEFITS OF INDEPENDENT DISPUTE RESOLUTION TO ADDRESS COMMUNITY GRIEVANCES

Wednesday, April 10, 2019, 9:00 - 10:30 AM
World Bank I Building, Room I-2-220

Dispute resolution processes can help resolve seemingly intractable problems and lead to common-sense solutions for communities and companies involved in development projects financed by multilateral development banks. To get there, it is important that these processes are properly implemented. This session will bring together civil society, independent accountability mechanisms, the private sector, and the International Finance Corporation to share their perspectives on actual cases, and dispute resolution principles and methodologies that can facilitate reaching solutions.

MODERATOR Scott Adams, Senior Specialist Ombudsman, CAO

FEATURING Debra Sequeira, Principal Social Development Specialist, IFC
Lani Inverarity, Senior Communities Associate, Accountability Counsel
Luba Bogachevska, External Relations Manager, Goodvalley Ukraine
