I am writing to you regarding a complaint that I had filed concerning the Port of Ndayane / Popenguine / Senegal.

This complaint seeks to obtain compensation or, at the very least, recognition of responsibility for the damage that we suffered on Thioupam beach in Popenguine, Senegal, because of the enormous breakwater of the new port.

We run a restaurant on the beach and the waves have flooded the dining room several times, of course washing away everything that was in front of the building.

The complaint (which I am attaching) was filed more than three months ago, and after repeatedly asking for a written response, a report, or at least an acknowledgment of receipt,

I received no sign whatsoever and no written response.

I am writing to ask you to follow up on my complaint in order to avoid painful delays.

Thank you
